For Immediate Release

Greenapple House Cleaning Partners With The Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation To Launch “Cleaning Because We Care”.

Greenapple House Cleaning Inc, the Ottawa based house cleaning company known for its commitment to environmental sustainability and their use of chemical free and non toxic products, has partnered with the Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation to create a new program called “Cleaning Because We Care”. The program provides free house cleaning to individuals receiving cancer therapy and treatment.

Maureen Buckley, Greenapple’s general manager and co-founder is excited about the program. “We’re very committed to the community. We meet a lot of wonderful people with many of our cleanings, and as we’ve been getting to know our customers, it’s interesting to find out how many families and individuals have had their lives affected by cancer”.

Greenapple’s Craig Buckley – who is also the founder and owner of Kettleman’s Bagel Co., a venerable Ottawa institution in the Glebe – seconds the statement. “Having a clean house to come home to is one less thing to have to worry about”.

Cleaning Because We Care is a program driven by Facebook. For every fan or like on Greenapple’s business page, the company commits $5 of house cleaning to the Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation – until they hit 1000 “likes” or fans. A total of $5000 worth of house cleaning visits will be distributed. The Foundation administers the list of candidates and coordinates cleaning visits.
